<https://www.npr.org/2018/11/06/664617076/a-look-back-on-shirley-chisholm-s-historic-1968-house-victory>.

This was a very good source for us. It had excellent information that helped us understand her Congressional race against James Farmer in 1968. Farmer had many famous people supporting him. Chisholm had the community. This website also had the audio of her victory speech. We used part of this speech on our “Fighting Shirley Chisholm” page.

Ashbury, Edith. “Freshmen in Congress won’t be Quiet.” New York Times. 6 Nov 1968. Pg 25.

This newspaper article was on her Congressional election victory. She told her audience that she was not about to be a quiet “fresh-men” Congressman. It also gave us some background information on her.

This website has several quotes from Friedan on it. We used a quote from it that we thought fit well our “Sexism” page.

Chisholm, Shirley. Unbought and Unbossed: Expanded 40th Anniversary Edition. Take Root Media, 2010.

This is Shirley Chisholm’s autobiography of her life up until 1970. It was our favorite source and our most important source. We learned a great deal about Chisholm from reading it. We used several quotes from it on several different pages of our website.

“Equal Rights for Women - May 21, 1969.” Archives of Women’s Political Communication, Accessed 22 Apr. 2020.

<https://awpc.cattcenter.iastate.edu/2017/03/21/equal-rights-for-women-may-21-1969/>.

This website had, maybe her most famous speech, her Equal Rights Amendment speech in 1969. Chisholm worked hard to try to get this amendment passed. We used a powerful quote from it on our “Fighting Shirley Chisholm” page.

https://www.huffpost.com/entry/maxine-waters-seat-at-the-table_n_58ece354e4b0c89f912187ae.

This article was used for information in our paragraphs on our "Emerging with Power" page. Representative Maxine Waters was interviewed for this article. She described how Chisholm inspired, encouraged, and guided her throughout her career.

"Here's What People Once Said About How a Woman Would Never Be the Democratic Nominee." Accessed 7 Mar. 2020.

<https://time.com/4359610/shirley-chisholm-nominee/>.

Though this is a secondary source, it has several primary source quotes in it. We used 2 of them in our "Unbought and Unbossed" page. The quotes and information in this article were on and from people who were very critical of a woman running for president.

Juma, Norbert. "30 Shirley Chisholm Quotes On Standing Up For Your Beliefs." Everyday Power, Accessed 11. Mar. 2020.

<https://everydaypower.com/shirley-chisholm-quotes/>.

We found a couple of Shirley Chisholm quotes on this website that we thought were very insightful. We used them on our website.

Keifner, John. "Farmer and Woman have a lively Bedford-Stuyvesant Race." New York Times. 26 Oct. 1968. Pg. 23

The headline of this news article was very disturbing to us. It showed us just how sexist the media could be back then. It also gave us information on the campaign between Chisholm and Farmer in 1968. Farmer thought it was important to have a strong male representing the District in Washington D.C.

Lynn, Frank. "New Hat in the Ring: Ms. Chisholm's." New York Times. 26 Jan. 1972. Pg. 1.

We learned where and when Chisholm announced her run for President from this article. It also had information on how even some of Chisholm's biggest supporters thought she had 2 strikes against her, her gender and her race. Even though this caused some concern with the 500 in attendance, they were very excited at the news.

Lynn, Frank. "What Makes Shirley Run?" New York Times. 30 Jan 1972 Pg E2.

This newspaper article attempts to figure out why Chisholm was running. It has some good quotes from Chisholm's reasoning, beyond just breaking this barrier. One important reason she shared was wanting to put the spotlight on issues important to women, African-Americans, and the poor.

Lynch, Shola. "Chisholm '72: Unbought and Unbossed." 20th Century Fox Home Entertainment. Beverly Hills California. 2004.

This is an excellent documentary on the racism and sexism Chisholm faced in the 1972 Presidential campaign. It also showed how inspirational her campaign was to many people. It has many primary source quotes from a number of participants in it. We used a couple of them. One on Chisholm talking about the assassination attempts on her life during the campaign and one from CBS Evening News Anchor-person Walter Cronkite on the day she entered the race.

Madden, Richard. "Chisholm Defeats Farmer, is the first Negro in the House." New York Times. 6 Nov. 1968. Pg. 1.

This newspaper article helped us understand how enormously important and historic Chisholm's victory was. She was outspent by her opponent, James Farmer, by more than 2 times. Yet, she gained twice as many votes as him. She had broken her first of many barriers.

Madden, Richard. "Mrs. Chisholm Gets Off the Farm Committee." New York Times. 30 Jan. 1969. Pg. 16.

We found this article very interesting. It gave us information for our "Fighting Shirley Chisholm" page. Chisholm was very frustrated by being placed on the Farm Committee since she represented an Urban District. So, she demanded a new committee placement. If one was a new Congress-person, one just did not complain about their committee assignment, not Chisholm. We used an image of this article.

POV. "From the Archives:" POV | American Documentary Inc., 17 Jan. 2004, Accessed Apr. 23 2020.

<http://archive.pov.org/chisholm/from-the-archives>.

This Ms. Magazine article written right after the 1972 election asked over 20 people about the impact of Chisholm's campaign on the country and on them personally. All agreed that Chisholm's campaign was very inspirational. We used a Gloria Steinem, one of the co-founders of Ms. Magazine, quote from this article on our "Emerging with Power" page.

Shirley Chisholm | Speech at Howard University. Accessed 29 Feb. 2020.

<http://americanradioworks.publicradio.org/features/blackspeech/schisholm-2.html>.

We used a quote from this speech from Chisholm at Howard University in 1970 on our "Fighting Shirley Chisholm" page.

Shirley Chisholm: Visionary Videos: NVLP: African American History. Accessed 22 Apr. 2020. <http://www.visionaryproject.org/chisholmshirley/#2>.

This was a great website for us! It has 11 video clips from a 2002 interview with Chisholm. We watched several of them. We used a video clip on her talking about the SEEK program on our "Double Handicapped" page and a quote from another one of the video clips on what it was like for her in Congress at first. She faced a lot of racism and sexism, especially during her first term. The examples she talked about were very disturbing to us.

Smothers, Ronald. "Chisholm Emerges with Power." New York Times. 19 Nov. 1972. Pg. 28.

This newspaper article gave us information on how powerful Chisholm emerged from her presidential run. She won nearly 90% of the vote for her House seat. The article gave us the idea for the name for our short term impact section.

Struggle for Equality: Quotes From Martin Luther King Jr. | Scholastic. Accessed 12 Dec. 2019. <http://www.scholastic.com/teachers/articles/teaching-content/struggle-equality-quotes-martin-luther-king-jr/>.

This website had many wonderful quotes from Martin Luther King on it. We found a quote on Martin Luther King's view of segregation from this website. We used the quote on our "Segregation" section.

Tolchin, Martin. "Mrs. Chisholm Led Fight for Domestic's Base Pay." New York Times. 21 June 1973. Pg. 45.

This newspaper article gave us information on how Chisholm worked hard behind the scene to successfully fight to extend the House's minimum wage legislation to include domestic workers. We used an image of this article on our "Emerging with Power" section.

Unknown Author. "Chisholm Demands Equal TV times to Rivals." New York Times. 28 May 1972. Pg. 4.

This newspaper article gave us a feel for the "fight" in Chisholm. She filed a suit to get equal television time to other presidential candidates. Later, she won the suit and was granted more time.

Unknown Author. "New Faces in Congress." Ebony. Feb. 1969. Pgs 55-65.

This magazine article has information on 3 new African-Americans elected to Congress. Two males and Chisholm. We read the parts on Chisholm being the first African-American woman elected to Congress and how she was elected from Brooklyn, New York.

Unknown Author. "Shirley Chisholm Accuses Press of Racism and Sexism in Hiring.: New York Times. 20 Feb 1972 Pg. 28.

This article gave us information on Chisholm's view of hiring practices of the press in regard to gender and race. She turned down a dinner invitation from the all-male journalists Iron-Grid Club of Washington and made her point by doing so.

Unknown Author. "Shirley Chisholm Named the First Black Women on the Rules Committee." New York Times. 19 Jan 1977. Pg 31.

This newspaper article is on how Shirley Chisholm became the first African-American (the second woman) in history on the powerful Rules Committee, breaking another barrier. She said that she would bring another dimension to the committee, having to do with people who have been rather voiceless and powerless. We used an image of this article and a quote from it on our "Emerges with Power" section.

Unknown Author. "Rep. Chisholm Officially Enters Presidential Race." Minneapolis Tribune. 26 Jan. 1972. Pg 2.

This is a newspaper article that was written the day after Chisholm gave a speech announcing her entrance in the 1972 Democratic presidential race. It gave us some information on where she did the speech, important points of her speech, and what primaries she intended on entering.

Unknown Author. "U.S. Courts Rule Mrs. Chisholm Must Receive Equal TV Time." New York Times. 2 June 1972. Pg 12.

This newspaper article gave us information about our "Unbought and Unbossed" page. She won the suit she had filed and was granted equal time TV to the other candidates.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=NzkArSONq-U&feature=youtu.be>.

This is an excellent video from an interview with Representative Barbara Lee on how Chisholm inspired her to become involved in politics. Representative Lee worked on Chisholm's presidential campaign and was a Chisholm delegate at the National Convention. Chisholm convinced her to run for office. We used a video clip from it.

YouTube. Accessed 18 Feb. 2020.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=tkWHsW5kcyE&feature=youtu.be>.

This was a video on the legacy of Shirley Chisholm. This video includes three African-American women leaders (Donna Brazille, Sheila Jackson Lee, and Maxine Waters), starting in the 1970s and still leading the fight for equality today. They talked about how they were inspired and mentored by Chisholm. We used clips from it on our “Emerging with Power” page.
